

The European Conference
“Raising employability through workplace-oriented training” on the 25th of September 2013
in Berlin, Germany

is a joint conference by the Leonardo da Vinci projects “European Workplace Tutor” and “Inside Out” who both deal with the subject of raising employability through a focus on better quality of in-company training personnel. Whilst the European Workplace Tutor project is focusing on creating European training profiles for in-company training staff, the Inside Out project focusses specifically on training in-company mentors for training and integrating workers with special needs.

In our one-day conference, we would like to take the opportunity to present our outcomes but especially to discuss issues of professionalisation of VET personnel with a broad group of stakeholders. There will be a lot of opportunity to discuss, raise questions and exchange experiences with other European stakeholders.

To join the European Conference and share experience with us
Please send the filled registration form until 25th of July 2013

Conference venue:

Art’otel Berlin Mitte
